1919 EPIC FLIGHT

This WW1 Vickers Vimy bomber is probably the only one outside of the RAF museum in the UK. It was flown by Ross and Keith Smith with mechanics Sgt Jim Bennett and Sgt Wally Shiers in 1919 from England to Australia and claimed the prize for this incredible flight when there were few airfields, dodgy fuel and hostile tribes in some areas of the sub continent. The flight took 93 days. The priceless plane will be relocated to the new Adelaide International Airport extensions as a fitting and permanent Memorial to these four men whom had undeniable courage, endeavour and the will to win against all odds.....

£ 10,000.00 prize money

MALAYA & BORNEO VETERANS' DAY 2019

The Commemorations this year took place in Adelaide and in Kuching, Sarawak. The veterans from Australia, NZ, UK and Malaysia were supported by the High Commissioners and Defence Advisers from Australia and NZ, the Defence Adviser from the UK, COL Kim Hosking 7GR [Ret], the Hon. Lee Kim Shin MLC Sarawak, Datuk Dr Philip Ting AM the Hon. Australian Consul to Sarawak, Dato Lim Kian Hock, Ms Fiona Marcus Raja, BRIGGEN Johnny Seng, Rev. Koh Thong Meng, Dean of Kuching and over 100 former and serving Malaysian army veterans. After the service, lunch was hosted in The Sarawak Club by both the High Commissioners and the entertainment included the NZ Contingent traditional haka, the Australians led by Datuk Ting with the Sarawak War Cry, Malaysian veterans traditional songs and gifts were also exchanged.

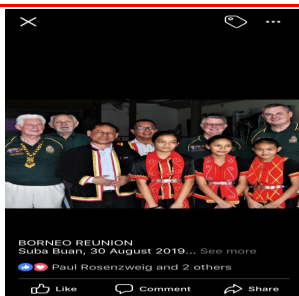

Visits were made to our three adopted schools at Suba Buan, Serikin and Stass and we were able to again donate funds to each. We were given traditional welcomes with dances, rice wine and food.

Dato Lim is leading the establishment of a Memorial Trail where Australian troops were based and engaged the Indonesian insurgents along the Kalimantan—Sarawak border; between Gumbang and Stass to include other ops areas around Cambrai and the SAS ops bases.....stay on the net.

OUR MEN SAIL FOR SERVICE IN BORNEO

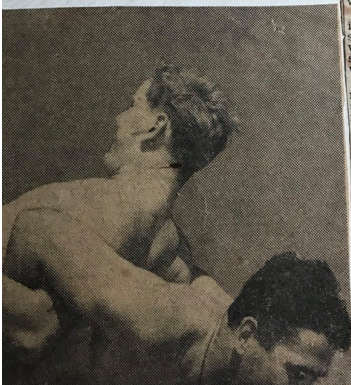

SYDNEY, Today. - The fast troop transport HMAS Sydney sailed from Sydney late last night carrying Australian forces offered to the Malaysian Government for tasks in Borneo and Malaya.

The Minister for Defence, Senator Paltridge, announced this early today.

He said that units aboard the troopship were the 7th Field Squadron and supporting detachments, the 11th Light Anti-aircraft Battery and four RAAF Iroquois helicopters with pilots and technicians from No. 5 Squadron.

The Seventh Field Squadron would construct airstrips, roads and bridges in the Borneo States.

The 11th Light Anti-aircraft Battery would be located at Butterworth in Malaya, where RAAF squadrons served as part of the strategic reserve, and the RAAF helicopters would be made available in support of operations, on the Thai-Malay border.

Senator Paltridge said restrictions had been placed on the release of information in the best interests of national security and of the servicemen concerned.

The public would be kept informed, as fully as possible. Security restrictions would be lifted progressively as the circumstances warranted.

The troops for Borneo number about 200. They are expected to be in Borneo under Malaysian command, for about six months.

Strict security blanketed the ship's sailing time and loading operations at Garden Island over the week-end.

The announcement of her departure was delayed for two hours after she had sailed.

The troops were not allowed to farewell their families because of the security restrictions.
